

3 Simple Tips for Cleaning Your Garbage Disposal

We usually try our best to avoid this scary machine, but just like every other home appliance, it requires some occasional TLC to keep it running properly and effectively.

1

Feed a full tray of ice cubes through your running disposal with cold water. This is the best way to clean it, and it also helps reduce any bothersome odor that's left behind from food.

Inspect the rubber splash guard for any damages. These can be damaged or even break off during regular use.

2

3

If your home is on a septic system, use your garbage disposal as little as possible. Waste from your disposal could disrupt the septic system or even create a blockage in the septic tank intake pipe.